

Risk disclaimer

1.Generalities.

1.1. This Warning notifies the Client of possible financial risks and related financial losses. Due to the variety of situations arising in trading, this warning May not include a reference to all existing risks.

1.2. The client is strongly advised to carefully study the section “Education center” to confirm their competence before you start using the services of the Company.

1.3. By registering a Trading account with the Company, the Client confirms his full awareness of the high risk assets.

2.Risks caused by technical failures.

2.1. Technical faults include any power failures, malfunctions in the operation of communication lines, interruption of access to the company’s servers, disruptions in the operation of services that provide information about changes in the rates of trading instruments, etc.

2.2. The company is not responsible for financial losses of the Client caused by any technical malfunctions.

2.3. The company is not responsible for financial losses of the Client related to hardware failures, poor Internet signal quality, incorrect settings or untimely software updates on the Client’s side.

3.Risks caused by volatility of trading instruments.

3.1. High volatility of the trading instrument (a significant change in the rate during the day) automatically implies a high risk when using these instruments. By registering an account with the Company, the Client is aware of these risks and possible financial losses and agrees with them.

4.Risks associated with communication channels.

4.1. The company is not responsible for any financial losses associated with non-receipt or untimely receipt of information by the Client. All messages sent to the Client are considered received and read.

4.2. The company is not responsible for financial risks and other consequences arising from the breach of confidentiality of correspondence with the Company through the fault of the Client.

4.3. The company is not responsible for financial losses and other consequences caused by unauthorized access to the mailbox or Trading account of the Client, which occurred through his fault.

5.Risks associated with force majeure.

5.1. Force majeure circumstances include natural disasters, terrorist acts, global and political crises, military actions and other force majeure.

5.2. Force majeure circumstances also include changes in legislation – including restrictions and prohibitions established in the country of residence of the Client.

5.3. The company is not responsible for the consequences of financial risks and losses associated with the influence of force majeure.